SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

This is no fish story for I weighed it with my own eyes and it weighed exactly 21 pounds. Even if I am again criticized by my friend for "looking on Sunday" I am going to tell the truth, for it was Sunday evening, while driving through Fillmore that I saw this monster cat fish of Eel River. And it was in the possession of Dick Cowgill, of that town who had just driven in from his cabin on Eel river. Now a 21-pound catfish is some fish, believe me it is, yes. Dick caught it while fishing for bass in the river between the upper and lower falls. And he sure was proud of fish and I do not blame him one bit. Earl Smith of Bainbridge, a former Greencastle resident, landed a 15 pound "Cat" at Eel river Sunday. It was a fine fish, also, but it lacked about six pounds in weight, compared with the one landed by Mr. Cowgill.

Believe me or not, I am a member of the "Reception Committee" for the notification of Senator Joe T. Robinson of Little Rock, Ark., to be held at Hot Springs Ark., Aug. 30. If you do not believe it, just come on down to the office and I will show you my credentials, which consist of a bright red badge all printed up in gold lettering and a letter which tells me to "come on down". Now I went down to Houston and helped nominate Senator Joe, all right, even going so far as to "hob nob" with the Arkansas Delegation in their headquarters in the Sam Houston hotel. Yep, I sweat, drank and lied for Senator Joe, but "durned" if they are going to drag me down to Hot Springs to help tell him what we did for him. If he is so slow he has not yet found that out, someone else besides me can tell him. I'll vote for him all right, though, even if he does not find out he is nominated.

Statistics have reached my desk which show that one gallon of gas will fuel an automobile for 14½ miles on gravel road, while the same machine will travel 21 miles on a gallon of gas on a cement road. And I might add that beside the increased mileage, cement roadway eliminates dust, bumps and skidding in fresh gravel.

I have been informed by one in position to know that serious objections have been taken to my innocent little story of the common house fly, its birth, life and habits, by an expert in flyology, and that I soon am to receive, for publication, a fly story written by an expert, which story will absolutely disprove my theory. I am anxiously awaiting the receipt of the manuscript and hope within a few days to give the world the true story of the fly.

"Rudolph Hoffman bought a Chevrolet coupe giving a check for $775 for the car. He ran that awhile and traded it in for a Hudson. He made an even trade and owed nothing. Then he traded the Hudson for a Ford, swapping even. He traded the Ford for a motorcycle and swapped the latter for a Star, agreeing to pay $200 difference. But he let the Star go back and bought a 1920 Buick. He paid only $100 for it. So Rudolph was not stealing chickens to pay for a new Hudson as has been stated in the paper."

LAUNDRY DRIVER ADMITS HOLDUP STORY A HOAX

ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 19.—Police allege that they have received from Charles Jeffries, 21 years old, laundry truck driver, an admission that a story told Friday to the effect that he was held up and robbed of $75 by two highwaymen was a hoax and that he appropriated the money to meet obligations. Jeffries is alleged to have confessed that his thefts from the laundry company aggregated $190 in four months. He will be charged with larceny and embezzlement, police said.

SAY PRISONERS GAIN FREEDOM THROUGH RUSE

STATE FARM INMATES SAID TO HAVE BEEN RELEASED AHEAD OF TIME THROUGH ALTERED RECORDS—SUPERINTENDENT HOWARD INVESTIGATING

In a report from Indianapolis Monday, it is claimed that it has been learned that a number of prisoners at the Indiana State Farm, have been enabled to gain their freedom before the expiration of their terms through altered records in the offices of the institution.

It was also said that an investigation is being made by the State Board of Charities. A personal investigation is also being made by Superintendent Ralph Howard of the Penal Institution.

It is also reported that as many as 10 or 12 prisoners have gained their freedom in this manner. Superintendent Howard is reported to have said that when the matter is sifted to the bottom it will be found that only 4 or 5 have been liberated in this manner.

Superintendent Howard is rated as one of the best penal institution men in the state. He has been head of the State Farm since 1921 and was assistant superintendent since the institution was started in 1914 until 1921. Efforts of the Herald this afternoon, to locate Superintendent Howard were futile. Chief Clerk Whistle stated however that there were some indications of an irregularity in the release of at least one prisoner, but as yet the matter had not been checked up.

CHILD HEALTH CONFERENCE TO BE AUGUST 27-29

ALL CHILDREN OVER SIX MONTHS OF AGE SHOULD BE VACCINATED AGAINST DIPHTHERIA AND SMALL POX, IS RECOMMENDATION

All children over six months of age should be vaccinated against diphtheria and smallpox declared Dr. Berenice Moriarty, who is conducting a series of Child Health examinations in Putnam County. The sense of security gained from such a simple proceeding as vaccination should make everyone want to avail themselves of it, she said.

The most common abnormalities found among the children examined thus far are: diseased tonsils, round shoulders and malnutrition the doctor said.

The health conferences which are being given by the child hygiene division of the State Board of Health are being sponsored by the Child Health Board of Putnam County. These conferences are given every year for children from birth to eight years of age and are free. Examinations are made of the eyes, ears, nose and throat, heart, lungs and complete physical makeup of the child. Last year 377 children were examined in the county. Re-examinations are being made of these in order to see if defects have been corrected and to find if further abnormalities have developed.

The conference will be held in Greencastle, August 27, 28, and 29 at the high school building.

STEPHENSON IN ANOTHER EFFORT FOR FREEDOM

LAPORTE, Ind., Aug. 20.—(INS)—The heralded "supremest" effort of D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan to win his freedom from the life sentence imposed on him at Noblesville, Nov. 16, 1925, for the Madge Oberholtzer murder, was started in Laporte Circuit court here today when the former Indiana political dictators battery of lawyers filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Stephenson's six attorneys gained their first objective when Circuit Judge John C. Richter immediately issued a forthwith summons directing Walter Daly, warden of the state prison at Michigan City, to bring Stephenson into court at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

However, arguments on the petition for the writ may not be held until later this week to enable Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom to get here in person from Grandview, Mich., where he is vacationing.

JUDGE HUGHES' CAR GOES OVER AN EMBANKMENT

ACCIDENT OCCURS ON DEER CREEK HILL SUNDAY MORNING—CAR NOT SCRATCHED

A Dodge Coupe owned and driven by Judge James P. Hughes of the Putnam Circuit court was undamaged and Judge Hughes escaped unhurt, when the car went over the steep embankment on the Deer Creek Hill early Sunday morning.

Judge Hughes was driving up the hill when the car slid over the steep embankment about half way up on right side of State Road 43. The car stopped sliding about twelve feet down the bank and hung in this precarious position until a wrecker from the Tribby Garage pulled it back on the road. The car was not scratched and Judge Hughes was able to drive on to his farm.

The car stopped sliding just before encountering a big tree which would have prevented the car sliding to the bottom of the deep embankment.

CHEVROLET CAR STOLEN SAT'RDAY

A Chevrolet car, 1925 model, belonging to James Hill, 309 Sycamore street, was stolen from Walnut street, Saturday night. Hill had just bought the car the day before and the title and container were laying in the car, thus making it easy for the thief to sell the vehicle.

Local officers are working on the theory that an organized gang of car thieves are working in this city as several cars have been stolen here recently.

SHIPS KEEP LOOKOUT FOR ROCKFORD SHIP

ILLINOIS AIRSHIP HAS BEEN UN-HEARD OF SINCE 3 O'CLOCK SUNDAY MORNING

MUCH ANXIETY IS FELT

Believe Plane May Have Been Forced Down By Mechanical Trouble In Untraveled Waters

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Radiograms were flashed to ships at sea early today to keep a look out for Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, the two American aviators who became lost while attempting a flight from Canada to Greencastle.

While the route taken by the aviators was far north of the regular steamer lane, small ships ply the waters where the men may have come down.

Favorable weather conditions were reported off the coast.

Belief is maintained here that the plane was forced to land by mechanical trouble but there is no explanation of its silence. The last signal from it was received at 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

MOUNT EVANS, Greenland, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Vigil was maintained here throughout the night for Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, American aviators who hopped off at Rockford, Ill., to fly to Stockholm, Sweden.

Weather conditions off the coast were favorable and it was assumed that the delay of the aviators was due to mechanical trouble. It was believed that they had been forced down somewhere over the Atlantic.

As the route taken by the Americans was off the North Atlantic Steamer Lane, considerable anxiety was felt for them.

Throughout the night wireless calls were sent out without eliciting any reply.

Signal fires were kept burning and a beacon blazed in to the sky.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 20.—(INS)—Daugard Jensen, general director of the Danish State Department for Greenland, declared today there is no reason yet to abandon hope for Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer missing American airmen who hopped off at Cochrane, Ont., to fly to Mount Evans, Greenland.

This official pointed out the possibility that Hassell may be unable to communicate with civilization from Greenland even if alive and well.

"Hassell's supposed landing place is 25 miles from the nearest radio station which Prof. Hobbs, an American operates on a short wavelength," said Jensen. "From the Hobbs station it is an addition 400 miles to the Government Station at Julianehaab. It is possible that Hassell may not be heard from until he arrives at Raykjavik with his companion flyer."

THOMAS MURPHY DIES SUNDAY

Funeral services will be held at St. Paul's Catholic church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

Mr. Murphy retired from his work with the Indiana Harbor Railroad at Franklin Park, near Chicago ten years ago due to ill health and returned to Greencastle the home of his birthplace, to live. He was located in Chicago for a number of years and prior to that was located in Evansville. His wife died ten years ago.

Funeral services probably will be held Tuesday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Thornton.

BIG FISH STORY

R. S. Cowgill of Fillmore caused unusual excitement Sunday at the Cowgill reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Talbott, when he displayed a big 21-pound catfish caught at Eel River. The fish measured 36 inches in length and 10 inches in width.

HOLD MAN FOR DRIVING WITH WRONG LICENSE

WILLIAM HILL TAKEN INTO CUSTODY WHEN OFFICERS FIND HIM ASLEEP ON WATER WORKS HILL—CAR BELONGS IN LEBANON

William Hill, age 35 years, a mechanic of Lebanon, who gave his address as Newark, O., was held here Monday for driving with improper auto license plates, following his apprehension by State Motor Vehicle officer William McMillan and Marshal Dave Braden, who found him asleep in a Ford sedan on the traveled portion of State Road 43, on the Water Works Hill—north of town, Monday morning.

Hill claimed the Ford sedan he was driving, was loaned him by a salesman for Mike Henderson, Hudson and Essex dealers of Lebanon to drive on a fishing trip. He claimed he became lost Sunday.

License plates on the car belonged to a Dodge coupe and were issued to G. G. Hale of Lebanon. Mr. Henderson was notified Monday and said he would come here for his Ford car. Motor officers McMillan and Remy of Crawfordsville were to file charges against Hill Monday.

Hill was arraigned in the court of Justice Robert Newgent Monday afternoon on two charges, driving a car with improper license plates and operating a motor vehicle with no registration card or container. His fine and costs on both charges amounted to $23. Hill pleaded ignorance of the Indiana laws and claimed the dealer at Lebanon placed the license plates on the Ford from a repossessed car and told him he could operate the machine without fear of arrest. He admitted buying liquor in Indianapolis and drinking a part of it.

HALF-SISTER OF LEW WALLACE IS DIES SUNDAY

MRS. AGNES WALLACE STEINER PASSES AWAY AT CATARACT FALLS IN OWEN COUNTY—DAUGHTER OF GOVERNOR

Mrs. Steiner, daughter of David Wallace, an early Governor of Indiana, was one of the pioneer aristocrats of this community and her magnificent scenic estate was one of the beauty spots of southern Indiana. At one time her husband owned a half-mile race track on the estate and the races proved a drawing card for thousands from all over the country.

Mrs. Steiner's most prized possession, valued even above the beautiful estate, was an autographed copy of Volume 1 of "Ben-Hur," presented to her by her brother.

ART GOEBEL SETS RECORD ACROSS U. S.

PILOTS LOCKHEED VEGA SHIP

Marks First Time Nation Has Been Crossed in Nonstop Flight—Crosses Indiana

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 20.—(INS)—Art Goebel, winner of the Dole Flight to Hawaii, arrived here this morning, establishing a new record for a non-stop flight across the continent.

Goebel left Los Angeles at 12:06 p. m., yesterday (Pacific Standard time) and arrived here at 11:09 a. m., Eastern Daylight time, making the long journey in 19 hours and 2 minutes.

Goebel was accompanied by Harry Tucker, Santa Monica sportsman in the plane "Yankee Doodle," a Lockheed Vega with a Pratt Whitney motor capable of 175 miles an hour.

The previous record of 26 hours and 50 minutes was held by Lieuts Macready and Kelly.

Reports of the plane since its departure from Los Angeles had been few, but no anxiety was felt for Goebel and Tucker by aviation experts who expressed absolute confidence in the Hawaiian flight winner's ability to succeed.

The flight marked the first time the nation has been spanned from west to east in a non-stop jump and broke a speed record which had stood for more than five years.

The plane carried 450 gallons of gasoline. The route lay across Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

SYNOPSIS

Chuck White, member of a gang of crooks of which the Professor is leader, has fallen in love with Rose Shannon, lovely cabaret dancer. The Professor, believing Rose knows the whereabouts of $200,000 mysteriously stolen from the Mercer National Bank, corners her in a lonely cottage where she has been staying. Suspecting Chuck of double-crossing them, the gang kidnap him, but he manages to escape just in time to save Rose from the lustful desires of the Professor. As Rose, terrified and breathless, arrives at the station she sees the gang in the waiting room and overhears a plot to kill Chuck.

Rose caught her breath as she heard this last threat. Kill Chuck! That's what they were planning to do. They were planning to kill him. To kill the man she loved!

Sparrow, too, stood listening to Lefty's tirade. Slowly he came forward and seated himself timidously on the bench beside his companions. The tall, slender man looked at him disdainfully, but Sparrow was not to be squelched.

"Aw, if youse loved a skolt like Chuck does 'at one, you'd do it' the same 'ting yourself," he piped up, nodding his head convincingly.

"Well, what about it? Sure, he's in love with the Jane," Lefty retorted, "but that ain't no good reason for falling down on a job."

So Chuck actually loved her. Rose gasped. She had heard the story

There, in the chair, sat the professor.

and she realized that this time it contained the truth. Chuck hadn't lied to her. He hadn't. It was because he loved her that he had fought his way back to her. And now they were after him and they were going to kill him. She must find him.

"The rig's ready." The station master appeared in the doorway, his lantern in his hand.

"Come on," the Mug motioned to his three companions.

They rose, pulling their coats about them, and started out of the door, following the thin rays of light cast by the lantern.

Cringing back in her hiding place lest they should see her, Rose waited until the last footfall had died away. At last, seeing the coast clear, she made for the door and hurried outside. She could still hear their voices as they piled into the carriage. She stepped back, concealing herself in the shadow of the out-jutting bay of the station, and waited breathlessly.

Then Rose could hear the creaking of the wheels, the snap of the whip, and finally the pad-pad of the horse's hoofs slopping in the slippery, muddy roadway. She waited until the station master reappeared and entered his sanctum, closing the door behind him. Cautionously she stole from her hiding place and rounded the corner of the building. A sudden flash of lightning revealed the rig and its occupants, and then they were again lost in the enveloping darkness. She plunged into the blackness after them.

The four gangsters rattled along in the buggy, lashing the horse, vowing it to greater speed. The animal reared and bolted as the sharp claps of thunder rolled overhead. At last they drove up before the porch, reared to the skin, jumping out, Molly in the lead. Pushing open the door they called out. A faint, answering halloo from upstairs greeted them. They hurried up the steps. At the doorway they stopped in shocked surprise.

There, in the chair, sat the Professor, his trousers leg rolled up, a handkerchief bound about his bared limb. As he looked up and recognized his visitors, a stream of oaths resounded through the air. "What the hell happened?" he demanded.

"That damned gorilla!" he got the girl and look what he did to me." He pointed to the blood-stained handkerchief. "And where the hell did he get that gat?"

"Oh, I dunno," Simpson finally answered, after allowing the question to roll about in his mind for almost five minutes.

"Hey, what th' hell do you think's happened?" Cowles turned to his companion, a puzzled frown between his eyes.

"Oh, I dunno," Simpson finally answered, after allowing the question to roll about in his mind for almost five minutes.

"And where the hell did he get that gat?"

Senator Curtis Adheres To Hoover Principles In Acceptance Speech

By International News Service
TOPEKA, Kansas, August 18.—Following closely the declaration of party principles laid down by Herbert Hoover last week at Palo Alto, Calif., Charles Curtis, senior Senator from this state, today accepted the Republican nomination for Vice President.

Surrounded by the home folks and before thousands who came from afar, the favorite son of the Sunflower State laid down fourteen points for maintenance and promotion of prosperity in America. He was back in the haunts of his childhood and early political career, where he had received for the past 31 years political preferment, and today he accepted a higher honor, never before accorded a Kansan.

Curtis came out strongly for farm relief, prohibition enforcement, aid for labor, made an appeal for full participation of women in politics and government, and urged prompt reduction of the public debt, expenses of government, and Federal taxes, as the most important of the fourteen as means to prosperity.

Agricultural Problem
Solution of the agricultural problem properly is and always should be non-partisan, Curtis said. It is a "trying and perplexing one," and is of deep-seated economic importance to every citizen without regard to his occupation or his political party.

"I am convinced that if a small joint committee of the House and Senate were appointed to study the problem and to find the proper solution, the necessary relief quickly could and would be afforded," Curtis declared.

Without the help which the Republican party has given the farmer, Curtis asserted, the agricultural situation would be "infinitely worse than it is."

Of law enforcement and prohibition Curtis declared it impossible to ignore the Constitution and "unthinkable" to evade it by a particular administration policy.

"The Constitution of the United States is the Keystone of our national strength, our pride in the hour of prosperity, our consolation and rallying point under every pressure of adversity; and whoever seriously wishes to preserve our Constitution in its full purity and vigor must of necessity wish to have all its articles and amendments honestly obeyed and faithfully enforced," he said.

Opposes Evasion
For the Federal government now to permit each state to determine for itself the alcoholic content of legal beverages, he asserted, would be a "direct and indefensible attempt on its part to evade" responsibility put upon it by the 18th amendment.

"I believe in meeting an issue squarely, therefore I state that not only am I heartily in favor of faithfully enforcing all our laws, but, further, I am opposed to the repeal of the 18th amendment or of the Volstead act."

In his appeal for the labor vote Curtis cited what laws already have been enacted for the betterment of conditions of labor, and emphasized that immigration has been restricted sharply.

Declaring that there are approximately 27,000,000 women entitled to vote, Curtis urged them to exercise that right, "as a matter of duty."

The Republican party, he said, has welcomed the increasing activity of women in government and politics, and "from the first has given women substantial recognition in its councils." It believes in and practices the principle of full equality between man and woman, Curtis added.

For Tax Reduction
"Prompt reduction of the public debt, of expenses of public administration, and of Federal taxes," he declared, "are obviously sound business practices." He would do away with every "useless and unnecessary board, bureau and commission," as a further means of economy in government and he renewed the party pledge "to such further reduction of the tax burden as the condition of the Treasury may from time to time permit."

The remaining nine points Curtis summarized:

Maintenance of peace with encouragement of commerce with all nations, but to enter entangling alliances with none; encouragement of industry, and a protective tariff; development of transportation and communication, national and international, through consolidation of railroads; competition of inland waterways, re-establishment of a strong merchant marine, a strong postal and commercial aircraft service, an efficient use of the radio; justice to all; support of state governments in all their rights; preservation of the Federal government and maintenance of national consciousness; liberty of the press, freedom of speech, promoting of educational, security of individual rights and civil liberty; flood control; generous fulfillment of obligations to war veterans.

STATE FAIR CLUB CAMP TO ATTRACT 200 4-H MEMBERS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 20.—Between 175 and 200 Hoosier 4-H Club boys are expected to attend the fifth annual Indiana State Fair Boys' Agricultural Club camp which will be held in the camp buildings located in the northwest corner of the fair grounds at Indianapolis from August 31 to September 8 as one of the features of the annual state fair. Considerable improvement has been made in the camp buildings by the state board of agriculture, including improvements in the kitchens and the laying of concrete floors. Two hundred new mattresses have also been secured by the board.

The camp itself consists mainly of two large permanent buildings. One building will serve as the mess hall and headquarters for all club activities on the fair grounds, while the other will be the bunk house, where cots for 250 boys will be provided. Splendid shower baths are available as well as a sanitary toilet system, while electric lights are provided for the entire camp.

W. A. Smith of Purdue, Assistant State Club Leader, will be in charge of the camp, which is to be conducted under the auspices of the Indiana Board of Agriculture. A competent staff of instructors will be in charge of the interesting and instructive program that has been arranged for the boys.

Included in the week's program will be livestock and crops judging and instruction in various phases of agriculture. Educational tours will be taken to many interesting industrial plants in Indianapolis and to special activities on the Fair grounds. Games and calisthenics will be under the supervision of competent physical instructors.

Two Marrott scholarships to Purdue University and two trips to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, will be among the awards that will be given to outstanding boys who attend the club camp.

ST. LOUIS GAMBLING RESORT IS ROBBED OF $17,000

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Theft of $17,000 from a gambling resort here yesterday afternoon was revealed today although county officials had not yet been notified.

George Furrey, who runs a resort in Jefferson county, just across the line from St. Louis county, was reported to have been held up by five armed bandits masked with handkerchiefs. The bandits were said not to have bothered the patrons.

A Few Remarks From the President of the Indiana State Fair

Levi P. Moore, President of the Indiana State Fair, held from September 1st to 8th, states that everything looks very bright and encouraging for the largest exhibit and attendance for this year than ever before. He states as follows:

"The time is near when the people will have another opportunity to attend the great Indiana State Fair. There has been over three million dollars worth of buildings built on the Fairgrounds in the last four or five years, which has moved the Indiana State Fair from seventh place to the rank of first place.

"We are offering $162,193.88 in premiums and purses, more than $200,000 more than any other state fair. Over 50,000 people can view the livestock in the different buildings, even though it should rain. There will probably be this year over 4,000 club entrants. The Indiana State Fair Board has been catering to the club exhibits until we have now more club entries than open class entries.

With all the space taken in the Manufacturers' Building, the machinery field filled and the concessions taken at this early date, and the entries that have come in from many states, the Indiana State Fair is assured of being 'Bigger and Better Than Ever.'"

Laura La Plante Stars In
"Thanks For the Buggy Ride"
Laura La Plante, blonde, mischievous and delicious, will make the world a better place to live in for an hour and a half when "Thanks For the Buggy Ride," one of the best little love farces you ever saw, is shown at the Voncastle theatre, beginning on Monday.

There is an old Hindoo proverb which declares that it takes two to make a buggy ride. The other featured player is Glenn Tryon, that famously funny peanut eater who made millions forget their immediate troubles when he made them laugh in "Painting the Town" and "A Hero for a Night."

"Thanks for the Buggy Ride" is just a delightfully humorous love story, written around the composing of the popular song of the same title and was suggested by a Byron Morgan story and written for the screen by Beatrice Van.

The cast includes Richard Tucker, Lee Moran, Jack Raymond, David Rollins, Kate Price and Trilix Frizanza.

William A. Seiter, who is the husband of Miss La Plante, directed her starring vehicle and he put everything into the picture to make it a glorious comedy-romance.

"Little Shepherd" Latest Hit
Of Barthelmess, Molly O'Day
Barthelmess—Santell—O'Day!

This combination is not double-play in baseball, nor a football triple pass, but rather a combination First National Pictures has discovered that indicates superb entertainment on the screen.

When Richard Barthelmess made his great story of the World War, "The Patent Leather Kid," Alfred Santell was at the megaphone and pretty Molly O'Day, just seventeen years old, was leading woman.

Barthelmess' newest starring vehicle for First National, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," finds the same trio again associated in the same capacities. The picture comes to the Granada Theatre today, and, judging from advance reports, it scores another ten-strike in entertainment just as did "The Patent Leather Kid."

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is the picture of John Fox Jr.'s immortal story of the Kentucky Mountains in Civil War days. However, the picture version does not

HIS RHEUMATISM VANISHED SINCE HE GOT KONJOLA

Indorses New Medicine For Benefit Of Others Who Suffer

MR. PHILLIP J. JOHNSON

"I am entirely free of rheumatism since I have finished a treatment of Konjola and I want to indorse it for the benefit of others who suffer from this dreadful ailment," said Mr. Phillip J. Johnson, Route No. 2, Box 184, Huntington, Ind.

"I had been suffering for two years and finally had to give up my work. The pains centered in my arms and legs so that I could hardly walk and the joints of my knees and elbows were swelled up and so stiff that I couldn't bend them without terrible agony. I was on crutches most of the time and just before I got Konjola I was so crippled up that I couldn't leave the house.

"Konjola fixed me up fine. I have put my crutches away and never miss a day from my work anywhere. All the swelling and stiffness is gone and there is never the slightest ache or pain anywhere in my body. I am out of misery for the first time in four years and give all the credit to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Greencastle, Ind., at the Owl drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

PASTOR OF BAPTIST CHURCH SPEAKS ON "FOUND BY THE ENEMY"—SERVICES HELD IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. S. E. Davies, pastor of the Baptist Church, was the speaker at the Union service held Sunday evening in the Christian Church. Rev. Davies took as his subject, "Found by the Enemy," taken from 1 Kings 21:20, "Hast thou found me, O mine enemy? And he answered, I have found thee." He said in part:

Ahab was king of the 10 tribes of Israel. He built him a country seat in the valley of Esdraelon, on the outskirts of Jezreel, which commanded a fair view of the Jordan plains. Joining his estate was a fertile strip of land belonging to Naboth. The King wanted it for a garden. The more he thought about it, the more eager he was to possess it, until the little vineyard became to him the one thing worth living for. He tried to buy it for money, or exchange other property for it. But Naboth would not part with it. His reply to Ahab was, "The Lord forbid that I should give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee."

Two reasons prompted this reply, viz:

1. It was God's will that estates of this kind should remain in the family. There was a law against the alienation of such property, to prevent the accumulation of large landed estates into a few hands.

2. Then it was his home, "The inheritance of my fathers." The old Hebrew loved his home and we cannot but admire him for it. So much for the first scene in the drama.

The King, refused, drives furiously back. Entering the palace, he throws himself like a spoiled baby, on his couch, and turning his face away, refuses to speak or eat. A new character appears on the scene. It is Ahab's Queen, Jezebel, the daughter of the King of Sidonia. To her inquiry as to his sadness he tells her, as earnestly as his lingering spark of manhood will allow, of his contemptible little trouble. Here was his opportunity to win him back to marriage, as 9 out of 10 wives would have done. But her course was different. "Dost thou govern Israel?" or in our words today, "who is King?" You get up and eat your dinner. I'll see that you get that vineyard." She will accomplish her end, but how? Murder will not do. That would be too coarse a procedure, and perhaps endanger her own neck. The record has it that she wrote letters, signed with the King's seal, commanding the officials of Jezreel "proclaim a fast, set Naboth on high among the people, and set two men, sons of Belial, before him to witness against him, saying, 'Thou didst blaspheme God and the King. And then carry him out and stone him that he may die.'"

So it was done, and it would seem to us that her woman's heart would

DR. T. M. CULVER, Specialist (Licensed by the State of Indiana) Brings the knowledge of forty years of experience in the successful treatment of Complicated chronic conditions.

Dr. Culver, experienced specialist formerly with National Doctors of Milwaukee, also some years connected with the Chicago Hospital, treats without surgical operations or hypodermic injections, diseases of the blood, skin, and the internal organs, rheumatism, sciatica, lung troubles, old ulcers, tape-worm, eczema, asthma, chronic constipation, epilepsy, high blood pressure, bed wetting and other morbid affections of the body.

Years of experience and the great number of cases successfully treated prove that the methods of the Doctor are very dependable.

Many people keep on suffering from ailments that might be greatly improved because they cannot afford to go to high-priced specialists away from home, and few communities have sufficient numbers of such cases to support a specialist.

The doctor has solved this problem by traveling from town to town to meet the sick. He instructs patients, recommends a course of treatment, and teaches failing men and women how to take care of themselves at home.

To those having ailments of long standing, whatever the trouble may be, and notwithstanding the poor results of former treatments, come and talk it over.

Examination and advice free. Ladies are requested to come escorted.

DR. T. M. CULVER
(Home Office: Anderson, Ind.)

"plead like angels, trumpet tongued, against the deep damnation of his taking off" in such a manner. But the deed was accomplished. Naboth and his sons with him, were stoned to death, and the scavenger dogs licked this blood without the city walls. The vineyard is Ahab's.

Some lessons for us:

1. Ahab succeeded, but at a fearful cost. He robbed Naboth, but at the same time, he robbed himself of his birthright of honesty and peace of mind. It was a sham success which for a moment, covered an eternal failure. Better far had he failed.

2. Then he compelled the officials of Jezreel to commit a foul wrong in his own interest. They could not but obey orders sealed with the King's seal. It may be said, by way of extenuation, that they complied willingly. If so, then so much the worse for them, for they were as guilty as he.

3. In all this care was taken that the whole transaction was perfectly legal. The law gave to the King the estate of every convicted traitor. Jezebel took care that the charge of treason should be added to that of blasphemy. In the title there was no legal flaw.

The closing scene of the drama is intensely thrilling. "And it came to pass, when Jezebel heard that Naboth was dead, she said to Ahab, arise and take possession."

We can think of it as early in the morning. Ahab enters the garden now all his own. It's beauty fills him with delight. A moment more and all is changed. He halts in his steps pale and quivering. His white lips are parted. His eyes are fixed in their sockets. What is the matter? No wonder he trembles. There in the pathway before him stands Elijah, the wild Bedouin prophet. His long robe girded with a leather belt, his eyes flashing fire, his finger pointed straight at the King. Ahab's lips part in speech, "Hast thou found me, O mine enemy?" and back to him comes the terrible reply: "I have found thee." And then comes the sentence, withering and blasting, "Hast thou killed and also taken possession?"

Thus saith the Lord, in the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth, shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine, and the dogs shall eat the flesh of Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel."

And so it came to pass. He gained a garden of herbs but they were bitter herbs. And so have we all, if we are the possessors of unjust gains. We may be sure that "our sins will find us out." Wrong will meet its doom. God's universe is at war with it. Our only escape from it's doom, is to turn from it, and seek Christ's help.

THREE DIE NEAR LAFAYETTE WHEN AUTO HITS TRAIN

MACHINE RAMS INTO SIDE OF
MONON TRAIN FROM UNKNOWN
CAUSE—FOUR PERSON
IN CAR STILL UNCONSCIOUS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 19.—Three Lafayette young persons were killed instantly when their automobile rammed into the side of a Monon passenger train on a crossing south of here at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon. The fourth occupant of the car was seriously injured.

The dead:
Lawrence Owen, 18 years old, a plumber.

Floyd Snapp, 20.
Mrs. Lucille Drum, 18.

The injured:
Lloyd Snapp, 20, twin brother of Floyd.

No explanation could be given of the accident as Lloyd Snapp was unconscious tonight and there were no witnesses. They drove up a grade to reach the crossing, but there was nothing to obstruct the driver's view. The car, thought to have been driven by one of the Snapp brothers, smashed into the side of the locomotive and was demolished.

All three men were employed at the Schwab Safe and Lock Company here.

Owen is survived by his mother, Mrs. Albert Turner, and three brothers of Lafayette, and his father, E. F. Owens of Meharry, Tex. Mrs. Drum is survived by her husband, from whom she was recently separated, and her father, Orville Muston.

Snapp is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Snapp; another brother, Albert, and three sisters, Mrs. Ellis Jenkins, Mrs. Milton Landis and Georgia Snapp, all of Lafayette. Funerals of all three of the victims probably will be held here Tuesday.

TWO FORDS DAMAGED IN COLLISION AT CEMENT PLANT CROSSING SATURDAY NIGHT—ILLINOIS CAR OVER EMBANKMENT AT BUTLER SCHOOL HOUSE

Two Ford cars were damaged in a head on collision near the railroad crossing just north of the Indiana Portland Cement plant Saturday evening. No one was hurt except one driver who had his mouth, bruised against a steering wheel.

It was said the accident occurred when Oal Lawson, north College Avenue, driving a touring car, passed some parked cars and collided with a Ford coupe headon. The cars were taken to the Franklin Street garage where Lawson agreed to pay for damages to both machines.

An Illinois car went down an embankment at the Butler school house on the National Road, west of Pleasant Garden, Sunday night, when the steering apparatus broke. No one was hurt and the car was placed back on the road by a wrecker from Pleasant Gardens. The car went thirty feet down the embankment.

From Chorus to Opera

Jane Carroll, beautiful Louisville, Ky., mezzo-soprano, started her career in the chorus of a musical show, but studied incessantly night and day with her voice teachers. Her reward came when she was chosen by Signor Guilio Gatti-Casazza as one of four young American girls who will appear at the Metropolitan next season.
